Dear Dan:

Thank you so much for the unexpected prize of having my announcement framed. I was totally caught off guard and humbled.

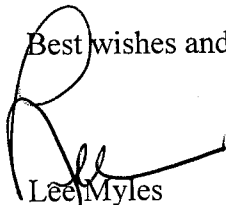

You and your staff at Turner Publishing do an extraordinary job of getting the news out every week, and highlighting the many events of local interest that don't always get included in the "local press" - and I am not referring to my announcement.

As an organization committed to serving those in need, we have many offerings for the public and Turner Publishing does a wonderful job getting the word out.

In case you did not see the attached, we have been recently recognized by the American Hospital Association for our efforts to serve the most vulnerable of our community. This is the "Oscar" for healthcare service. We are very proud of our community and what we endeavor to do for it; so as one of our big supporters, we want to share this success with you.

Again, thank you so much for my recognition and all that you and Turner Publishing does for our community.

Best wishes and kindest regards,

Lee Myles
